GERMANS ATTACK VERDUN

Berlin Reports Aerial Bombardment of Dover and Harwich On the English Coast

PARIS, July 11.—Despite the pressure against their lines in Picardy, the Germans continue their attacks on the Verdun front.

East of the Meuse river, the Germans during strong night assaults, penetrated the French positions in Fumin wood and Chenois wood, but were driven out by counter attacks, the war office announced in its communique today.

BERLIN, via Sayville, wireless, July 11.—Two German naval aeroplanes bombarded the British coast fortifications at Dover and Harwich on the night of July 9-10, the admiralty announced today.

LONDON, July 11.—After a bloody battle which was marked no less by the violence of the attacks than by the fury of the counter assaults of the Germans, the English are again in the shell-ridden village of Contalmaison on the Somme front.

Official announcement of the recapture of Contalmaison was made by the British war office at noon. The British had previously taken the town after it had been shattered by artillery fire, but had to give it up.

A second drive was launched and after a series of night attacks, the Germans were again driven out.

Contalmaison lies between the Ancre and the Somme rivers, about eight miles south of Bapaume, the immediate objective of the British offensive.

Contalmaison was first captured on the morning of July 7. Before the British could organize their new positions the concentrated batteries of the Germans between Comblès and Bapaume opened up with a burst of fire which drenched the new British position with steel. This cannonade on the night of July 7 was followed by powerful counter attacks which finally drove the English troops out. Since then a great struggle has been raging at that point.

The official report of the war office reads:

"Last night after a brisk bombardment, we recaptured Contalmaison by assault, capturing 189 unwounded prisoners, including a battalion commander, and four other officers. Four counter attacks were delivered which were beaten off with heavy loss to the enemy. The whole of Contalmaison is now in our possession.

"Further eastward we stormed several lines of German trenches in Bois de Mamiz. The greater part of this wood is now in our possession. We captured a heavy howitzer, three field guns and 296 unwounded prisoners, including three officers. Heavy fighting is taking place in Trones wood.

"On Sunday one of our aeroplanes was brought down by anti-aircraft guns and three others have not yet returned."

BRITISH RAIN SHRAPNEL

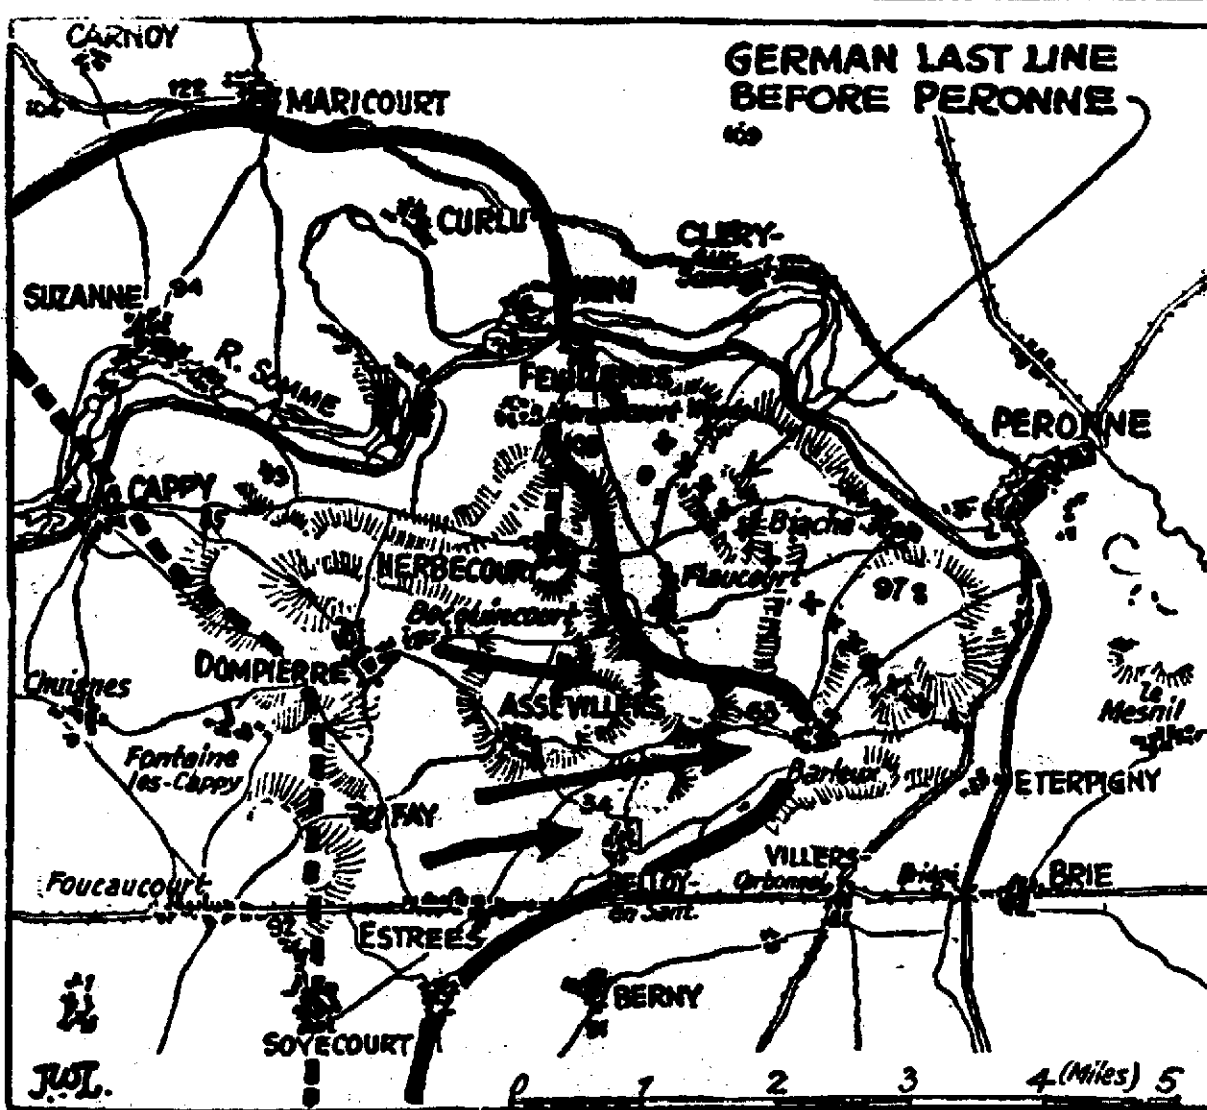

Contalmaison Taken After Heaviest Fire of War.

HEADQUARTERS WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, (via London)—July 11.—It was a mid-summer afternoon with fleecy clouds, bright sunlight and clear air, which was all artillery observers could ask, when the British stormed Contalmaison, on the Somme river front, whose possession both sides seemed to regard as a tactical key-stone in the present situation. Fragments of walls of the old chateau still standing amidst the ruins was the last glimpse the correspondents had in their prefatory bombardment before the attack. Fifteen-inch shells from the British guns soon tore away this portion of the ruins from which rose a cloud of dust. From a given area the artillery fire was the heaviest of any yet seen in this front.

The Germans answered the British shelling with an immense volume of their own fire, placing a curtain

OHIO CAVALRY TO GO SOUTH FIRST

Second Regiment Will Take
Federal Test Tomorrow
at Camp.

CAMP WILLIS, O., July 11.—Conflicting unofficial advices from Washington today named Fort Bliss, Galveston and San Antonio as the destination of the Ohio militia when it is moved to the border. Brigadier General John C. Speaks, Columbus, commanding the second brigade, said he was confident the Ohio national guard would be sent to General Funston's headquarters at San Antonio.

Following the precedent set by the western department of the United States army in sending the engineers and the cavalry units of the Illinois national guard ahead of the infantry, Major F. A. Fanning of the battalion of engineers and Major Dudley J. Hard of the squadron of cavalry were expecting orders hourly to entrain for the border.

Companies E and I, of the third regiment today were officially recognized by the war department. The entire first brigade, embracing the second, third and sixth regiments, now is on a par with the second brigade, although the physical examination is not completed. The men of the second and third regiments are to go before the federal medical examiners tomorrow and Thursday.

Will Investigate the Reports Of Villistas In Northern Mexico

Washington Believes Rumors Prompted by American Interests.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—A complete and searching investigation into the reports of Villista activities in Mexico has been ordered by President Wilson. The state and war departments have been requested to report at once all obtainable facts regarding the exact whereabouts of the bandit leader and whether it is true that his forces are as large as has been reported in the press advices from the border.

President Wilson and the cabinet had before them today all of the preliminary information furnished to the state department by Ambassador Designate Arredondo. These reports contained specific denial of the wholesale desertions from the ranks of General Trevino and other Carranzista generals and officers and men. It is understood that the cabinet also considered confidential reports received from General Funston and other American officers along the border dealing with the renewal of the Villista agitation by certain American sources long under investigation.

Officials declared that there would be no change of policy at this time, the militia will be retained at border posts until it is certain that the defunct government of Mexico has stamped out brigandage. Acting Secretary of State Polk today sent formal notice to the treasury department that this government had no objection to food-stuffs being shipped across the border into Mexico.

CARRANZA TROOPS DESERT.

Villa Forces Steadily Increase in Northern Mexico, Report.

EL PASO, Texas, July 11.—Mutiny and desertion are rapidly depleting the ranks of Carranza's army, according to reports which reached here today. With each new defection of troops from the de facto government standard, the forces of "Pancho" Villa are strengthened. In some quarters the prediction was made today that in 60 days First Chief Carranza will be overthrown and that Villa will rule Mexico, or at least the northern division of it.

The state department at Washington has been informed of every fresh development in the crisis and the rapid ascension of Villa promises to lend a new twist to the diplomatic situation. Mexican official reports, as issued at Juarez, are unusually conservative where they are not flatly contradictory. The latest report from that side told how 2,000 Carranzista cavalry, later supported by 1,000 reinforcements, had engaged the Villista forces under General Calixto Contreras, near Corralitos. From all that can be learned from the Mexican authorities, the army of 2,000 has disappeared. They declare no report has been heard from it or the battle in which it was supposed to have been engaged last Saturday.

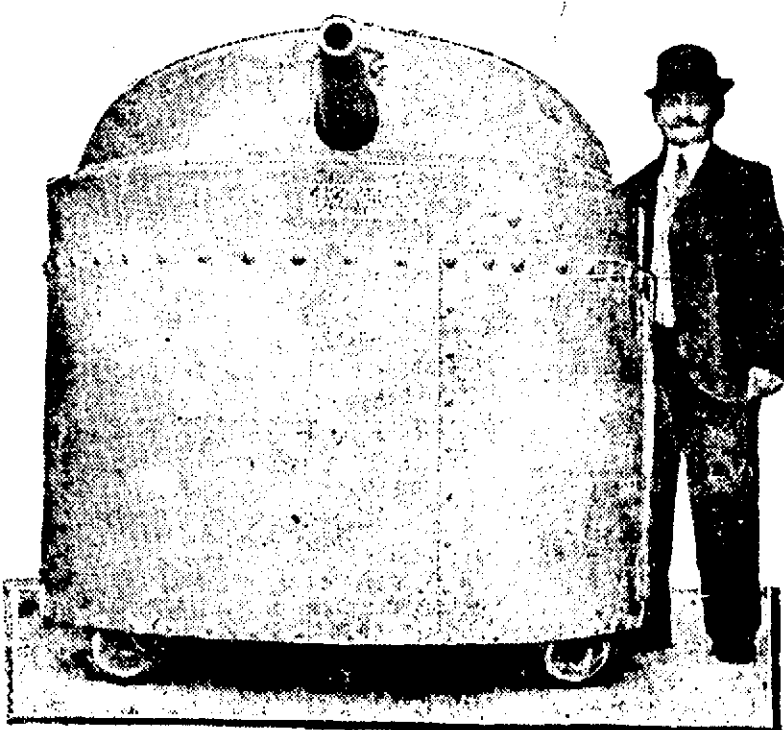

The experienced ones declare that this means that the Carranzistas were either soundly whipped, that they joined the forces of Villa, or that their commander saw fit not to engage Contreras. Such things happen in Mexican military affairs. Whole armies have been known to set out against the enemy, shouting themselves hoarse with "vivas" for their valiant commander. The next report shows them in the ranks of the enemy, still enthusiastically shouting "vivas" but for the new commander.

Such a happening was especially likely in Chihuahua, where the majority of the population has always been rabidly Villista. The Villista tendency of Chihuahua City has always been admitted by the Carranza government and the Carranza army in that hotbed of bandits has found its main problem in keeping the check-rein taut upon the rebellious necks of the Villa followers.

The character of Chihuahua City gave strength to rumors that 2,000 troops of General Jacinto Trevino had mutinied and fought with the government forces still remaining loyal. It was reported that the Chihuahua mutiny was led by Villista agents. General Trevino himself is said to have led the force that was sent to punish the mutineers. Meantime reports, all unconfirmed, from that vicinity, tell of a victorious engagement fought through Chihuahua

Certain Death In New German Gun

This remarkable weapon is the latest invention of the Germans and is now being used against the British in their mighty drive against the Kaiser's army. The hood contains a rapid-fire gun. It is so thick that it will withstand the shots of mere rifles, and can be punctured only by cannon.

The shell is wheeled close to the enemy ranks, and the single man protected inside fires until the cannon destroys the hood and kill him. Once a German goes forward propelling on its wheeled this strange engine of war he knows certain death is before him. He may kill a dozen of the enemy, but he will be smashed to bits by cannon before he can return.

U. S. NAVAL EXPERTS GO ABOARD DEUTSCHLAND AFTER VIGOROUS PROTEST

Submarine's Captain Objects to Government Inspection But Von
Bernstorff Directs Compliance

BALTIMORE WORLD CENTER

Momentous Results Depended On Outcome of Decision in Germany's Latest Experiment in Sea Craft.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced today that he had named Lieutenant J. O. Fisher of the bureau of steam engineering and Naval Constructor Herbert S. Howard to assist Captain Hughes in making an examination of the Deutschland. Lieutenant Howard formerly was attached to the submarine flotilla of the United States navy.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 11.—United States naval experts, after a vigorous controversy today made a detailed examination of the German super submarine Deutschland after her record-breaking trans-oceanic trip. Under instructions from Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, Captain Koenig of the submarine allowed Captain E. C. Hughes, Lieutenant Commander J. O. Fisher and Naval Constructor H. S. Howard of the navy department to inspect the vessel. The German agents of the line which owns the Deutschland, in Baltimore, headed by Paul Hilken, flatly refused to allow the naval officers to board the ship without permission from Count Von Bernstorff, and they kept the experts on shore until the ambassador, from New York, had advised that the inspection be permitted.

INFANTILE DEATH LIST INCREASING DESPITE EFFORTS

NEW YORK, July 11.—Despite the increased efforts of the health officials to curb the epidemic of infantile paralysis, the number of cases and deaths took a sudden jump during the last 24 hours. A total of 195 new cases and 32 deaths were reported to the health department, increasing to 1,278 the grand total of cases and to 270 the grand total of deaths.

Twenty deaths and 155 of the new cases were in Brooklyn borough. Manhattan had six deaths and 14 cases. The others were scattered over Queens, Richmond and the Bronx. The number of deaths and cases reported today was more than double that listed Monday, when there were 12 deaths and 90 cases recorded.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 11.—One death from infantile paralysis was reported at Oneonta today. The victim was a four-month-old baby.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—With new cases of infantile paralysis reported from widely separated parts of the country, the general service board of the United States public health service went into session today to complete its plan, for checking the spread of the epidemic. New York authorities wired the service that the situation there today "looked a trifle better," and that there was no alarming increase in the number of cases.

FLOODS DEVASTATE 2 SOUTHERN STATES

ATLANTA, Ga., July 11.—With every stream in Alabama and Georgia out of its banks, and thousands of persons driven from their homes, the federal government today began an investigation into conditions with a view to taking steps to relieve the refugees if such a step is necessary. Reports show a total loss of 78 persons dead or missing as a result of last week's hurricanes and rains. This includes 55 members of the crews of 10 schoolers missing from Biloxi, Miss. The continuous rainfall ceased today. The crop and property damage probably will amount to between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000.

HEAT CRAZED, ENDS LIFE.

GALLIPOLIS, O., July 11.—Captain Jacob Lallante, 58, driven insane by the excessive heat, today committed suicide by jumping into a cistern and drowning.

Count Von Bernstorff's decision ended a serious controversy. The United States officials had notified the Germans that the inspection was their legal duty and that they proposed to proceed with it. The Germans declared that they would allow no one on board the vessel without express permission of the ambassador. Only prompt communication with Count Von Bernstorff prevented a serious altercation. The ambassador's decision made it apparent that the German officials are determined to go to almost any length to establish the status of the Deutschland as a merchant ship and thus form the basis for a diplomatic fight to break the British-French blockade of German ports.

DEUTSCHLAND STORM CENTER.

World Politics Now Swirls Around Merchant Submarine at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 11.—A maelstrom of world politics today centered about a closely guarded, bright green shape that rose and fell in the swash of Baltimore harbor—the German super submarine Deutschland, first commercial undersea boat of all time. On the exploit of the pioneer trader of the deep and the 29 weather-browned men of her crew, German enterprise and daring based three great hopes and prepared to seek the realization of their hopes with all the energy and skill of German diplomacy. As a result of the trip of the Deutschland, it can be stated on authority Germany plans to gain these things:

The admission by neutral countries, particularly the United States, that the British-French blockade of German ports is incapable of enforcement, is illegal under international law and is not binding upon neutral trade.

A direct line of communication with the outside world free from interference by warships of the entente allies.

A safe means of sending to the United States hundreds of millions of dollars of American securities now tied up in Germany to be used here in building up German credit, and aiding German domestic finances. Behind these plans the entire force of German diplomatic strategy and German political genius is to be placed. The campaign will be unofficially but positively nevertheless, led by Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador now in summer quarters, who is already preparing to present the German contention as to the merchant status of the Deutschland, if it becomes the subject of diplomatic dispute. Ambassador Von Bernstorff was today in close communication with Captain Paul Koenig of the Deutschland, and officials here of the German line which sent the submarine to this country. They were advised as to every step made today that might affect complete federal recognition of the submarine as a mer-about vessel with all the rights and privileges of a peaceful trader. While the diplomatic agents of the German government did not personally appear, the local Germans in charge of the submarine were in touch with them by telegraph and telephone.

There was much speculation today as to the nature of the despatches brought from Germany by the Deutschland, and delivered direct to Counselor Maniel Von Haimhausen, who hurried them to Ambassador Von Bernstorff. Some of these despatches undoubtedly bear upon the German diplomatic contentions as to the status of the submarine, and the contents of the despatches is expected from Count Von Bernstorff soon.

The German interests here today centered all their efforts on the task of establishing the merchant status of the new ship. Encouraged by the temporary acceptance by the customs officials and the treasury department of their contentions, they prepared to convince the state department that the submarine can in no way be classed a warship. On this contention is based the whole German hope of making conditions such that the United States and other neutrals shall be forced to break the British blockade. Captain Koenig and officials of the Deutsche Ozean Rhderei, owners of the Deutschland, prepared to demonstrate to Captain C. E. Hughes of the navy, designated by the state department to examine the submarine, that the vessel was fitted out only for the purpose of peace. An inspection of the vessel by Captain Hughes was arranged. Meantime all the requirements of the customs regulations were scrupulously complied with, and preparations made for the discharge of the cargo of the vessel, $1,000,000 worth of dyestuffs consigned to American firms.

The cargo of the Deutschland was the least important part of her trip, German agents declared here today. They made it clear that the voyage of the submarine was a diplomatic "test case" and that succeeding voyages would develop the commercial possibilities of the submarine trade. Captain Koenig declared today that the Deutschland would be in port about eight weeks before making a start on the return trip. She will be thoroughly overhauled and refitted.

"I will go as I came," said the little merchant skipper. "When we are ready to return to Germany we will steam out with a cargo like any other ship. If the enemy fleet observe the rules of the game and stay outside of the three mile limit, we will evade them without trouble."

Before the Deutschland starts for Germany, her sister ship, the Bremen, will be on her way to the United States, German agents here declared today. They were unable to say what the cargo of the Bremen will be, but it was surmised that she would have on board American securities to a large amount for sale in this country.

The agents of the submarine line were bombarded today with demands for parts of the cargo of dyes. They declared that the entire amount had been consigned to the A. Schumacher company, which would distribute it, and that all the dyes already had been allotted. Half a dozen demands for passage to Germany on the submarine's return trip were likewise filed with the agents, two applicants offering to pay $5,000 each for the privilege of making the voyage. All applications were rejected. The Deutschland will carry home a $800,000 cargo of nickel and rubber consigned to German concerns.

The Deutschland was closely guarded today at her berth off Locust Point and the utmost precautions were taken to prevent any one from getting near enough to the vessel to discover any of the "secret" details of her construction. Captain Koenig posted a guard of husky German sailors all about the harbor wire enclosed dock and curious strangers received sharp greetings.

COUNTY LEVY IS MADE FOR HIGHWAYS

Main Roads Will Receive Benefit of the New Budget.

The board of Allen county commissioners yesterday adopted a resolution, authorizing a special levy of one mill upon the taxable property of Allen county, for the purpose of improving the main highways running through the county. The levy was made under Section 7413 of the General Code and the money realized from the sale will be spent under the direction of the commissioners.

Commissioners will employ the labor and purchase materials necessary for the construction, reconstruction and maintenance of the roads or parts thereof.

HOT WEATHER FAILS TO AFFECT COURTS

What matters if it is sweltering hot and the thermometer is hovering around the nineties in an endeavor to climb higher? Court work goes on in Allen county in many of the counties of the state, when the hot days appear, officials close their office and flee to the northern lakes where the cool breezes blow.

The court of appeals is working along just the same as though the thermometer was below zero. The Hon. Phil M. Crow, presiding judge, says the court has no time for vacations, but clean up the docket, regardless of the hot weather. Judge Crow spends his week-ends in his cottage at Indian Lake.

Judge William Klingler keeps right at work this hot weather. This week he is at Van Wert, sitting in criminal court, in exchange with Judge H. E. Allen. He takes a day or so off, going fishing or slipping down into the cool, shady spots of his Sugar Creek township farm. Judge Klingler is an indefatigable worker. He would rather see the docket cleared than to enjoy a long vacation.

DEISEL STORE IS HOST TO EMPLOYEES

Watermelons, ice cream, good music and cooling breezes did their part, which was no small one, in making the picnic of the Deisel store, given yesterday, a huge success.

At 5:30, machines donated by Henry Deisel, Sr., took 115 employees and their wives to McBeth park, where a picnic dinner was eaten, to the music of the Wayfarers' orchestra. Foot races were in order, with due respect to the occasion, after the dinner, and boxes of El Verano cigars were won by Richard Judkins and Carl Breed, while Miss Doris East won a pair of silk hose for being the swiftest runner among the feminine contingent.

Dancing and boating and surprises in forms of entertainment given by George Glover, made the remainder of the evening pass pleasantly. At midnight, the crowd, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deisel, Sr., went their respective ways, tired but happy, only wishing that tomorrow might be suddenly declared a legal holiday.

CUPID IN THE LEADS; DIVORCES FALL OFF

Marital Happiness Steadily Increases in Allen County.

"While a strong effort was made to excel the record of last year at the last minute, it broke as it came in under the wire," said Daniel A. Bousher, county clerk of courts today, regarding the divorce rate in Allen county for the year just closing. Two more cases for divorce were filed in the clerk's office last year than this year. The fiscal year extends from July 1, 1915, to July 1, 1916. Clerk Bousher is just completing his report, ready for filing with the state authorities in Columbus.

During this year 186 cases were filed, asking for divorce, 55 by husbands and 159 by wives. At the beginning of the year, there were 23 cases pending from last year, making 214 in all. The number of 184 were decided during the year, leaving 40 still pending on July 1, 1916.

From July 1, 1914, until July 1, 1915, 188 cases for divorce were filed. Thirty-six were still pending at the beginning of that year, making 224 to be decided, as against 214 this year.

During the past year 674 couples were married by banns and license. The year previous 637 were married. So Dan Cupid has quite a little on the divorce bug, nearly 500 couples having been happily married in the year over the nearly 200 which sought the divorce courts for marital separation.

DENTIST'S OFFICE ROBBED OF GOLD

Dr. Barrington Loses $15 Worth of Precious Metal; Police Puzzled.

The third robbery of a dentist's office this year was reported to the police department this morning by Dr. E. F. Barrington. He stated that his office had been entered and $15 worth of dental gold taken. As in the case of the previous robberies entrance to the office was gained through the use of a pass key. There was no evidence that the door had been jimmied or the windows tampered with.

Police are of the opinion that the work in each case was done by the same party, as nothing was missed but gold. Dr. Barrington stated that although there was other metal of considerable value in the office, it was not molested. Police officials are at a loss as how to obtain a clue to the identity of the robber, as in no case has the thief made a false move which could be used as evidence.

GROCEER IS HELD FOR INTERFERING WITH CITY SEALER

Will Fight Charges Made by City Market Master Herbolzheimer.

Steve Bogden, Macedonian, who operates a grocery at the corner of Forest avenue and Second street, was arrested this morning by Motor Cop Thomas at the request of John Herbolzheimer, market master and sealer of weights and measures in the city. He was arrested on a charge of interfering with the work of the sealer. When arraigned in criminal court this morning on the charge he pleaded not guilty, and the case was set for trial Friday morning.

According to Herbolzheimer, when he visited the store operated by Bogden, this morning, the latter refused to allow him to inspect the scales and place a seal on the apparatus. He informed the market master that it had been inspected only a short time ago by James Colison and exhibited a seal of the county which he claimed had been placed on the scales by him.

The Macedonian states that he intends to fight the case to the limit, as he feels that he is being done an injustice. If found guilty of the charge the fine is not less than $10 and no more than $50. The sealer claims that he intends to make the case an object lesson and prove that the violations of the ordinance will be taken care of by the law.

The Hester Tire & Rubber company is a $100,000 concern, incorporated under the laws of Delaware and at present doing a general rubber jobbing business. One hundred men and girls will be employed here at the start, and the force will be increased later, it is said.

JOHN BRUNO, SHOT SUNDAY NEAR DEATH

Tony Zinnamosco, Alleged Assailant, is Still at Large.

Police are still looking for Tony Zinnamosco, Italian laborer, who is charged shot and probably fatally wounded John Bruno, Sunday night, at the home of the former in "Little Italy." Police Chief McKinney is of the opinion that the fugitive is hiding in Youngstown, as he is known to have relatives in that city. All surrounding towns and police officials of large cities have been notified to look for the man.

The wife of the fugitive visited the police station yesterday and informed Police Chief McKinney, of the incidents that led up to the shooting. She claims that Bartolo Bruno, who is being held in the city prison was the wielder of the knife which inflicted wounds on both her and her husband. She exhibited several painful wounds on her body which she claims were made by the razor in the hands of Bartolo Bruno.

The condition of John Bruno at the city hospital is still very serious, according to the report of the physician in charge of the case. Although reported to be resting easily, the wound through his lung may cause death at any time. The other bullet which passed entirely through the Italian's arm is of a less serious nature.

NATIONAL GUARD STILL MOVING

Constitutionalists' Coaches Pass Through Lima Over Erie.

That army officials still consider that the situation on the Mexican border needs immediate attention is shown in the fact troops are still being rushed to the states bordering on the country. Last night two troop trains each made of four coaches passed through the city on their way over the Erie railroad to the border. They are some of the eastern artillery units.

This morning 75 new coaches were sent through Lima over the same road to Mexico. They are consigned for the Constitutional railroad of that country. According to the report of officials of the Erie railroad the equipment of the main road of that country which is now in the hands of the Constitutionalists is depleted.

Two more troop trains bearing national guard units from the eastern part of the United States is scheduled to pass through Lima today. When word comes for the Ohio guard to depart for the border, it is likely that they will make part of the journey over the Erie. Although reported last week that they would receive notification to entrain early this week, it is believed that owing to sickness it will be held off until late in the week.

Will Investigate the Report of Villistas In Northern Mexico

streets and into the hills that surround the town. Hundreds were killed on both sides, it was reported, before the mutineers formed their ranks again and marched southward to join their idol, "Pancho" Villa. Villa himself is believed to be somewhere between Jimenez and Parral.

If the Mexican officials along the border choose to believe reports that Villa is "coming back" powerfully, their reluctance is not shared by First Chief Carranza, whose warnings to Washington are reiterated. The call of "Pancho" Villa to his former commanders and the "loyal" Mexicans who served with him in other campaigns is being emphasized with threats of execution and mayhem for the reluctant.

British Retake Town On the Somme Front; By Fierce Assault

in front of the town, which, at times, hid the cloud from the British guns enveloping the town and also scattering shells near the front line.

The British fire kept on increasing and spreading and the Germans in answer extended their shelling until the line stretched from Trones wood, another hotly disputed point which had already become a stretch of branchless, leafless trunks, to Orville and Laboiselle. Along this new front the artillery duel continued to rage.

At 4:40 o'clock when the British charged, there seemed to be peace in Contalmaison. But it was soon surrounded by walls of shell fire. After the British got in and the Germans were forced out, German guns took their turn at hammering the ruins and knocking off more sections of the walls of the old chateau.

While the British were tossing the Germans from their second lines, it was raining shrapnel from the skies. The amount of ammunition the British are expending is astounding, and, as a spectacle, this afternoon eclipsed anything the correspondent has seen since the allied offensive began. From one point he was able to see from the region of Albert to the bend of the Somme, in front of Peronne. The present line of battle is mapped across fields, woods, valleys and hills by shell bursts.

Nineteen great allied "sausage balloons" were visible and the absence of them on the German side, as the result of their destruction by British shells and aeroplanes, is held by artillery observers to be a big handicap to the Germans.

Over the French lines speedy Nieuport aeroplanes, dashing past balloons, were going and coming at the rate of 120 miles an hour and as one British officer said, "these little machines, with their smart build and tail held high, express the feelings of the French."

Russell Joyce, arrested several days ago on a charge of criminal assault on a 15-year-old girl, will be given a hearing in criminal court this afternoon. When arraigned on the charge several days ago he pleaded not guilty.

Thomas Lindley, arrested on a charge of larceny, pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned in the court of Justice of the Peace Hamilton this morning. The case was heard this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The plaintiff in the case, A. S. Halem, claims that the defendant stole a $25 pin.

ADMINISTRATOR NAMED.
T. J. Cunningham was today appointed administrator of the estate of the late John Cunningham, which amounts to $300. He gave bond in the sum of $600. The estate is all personal property. H. F. Vorkamp, J. E. Moran and W. H. MacKenzie were named as appraisers.

TWO FACE CHARGE OF STEALING "DOPE"

Cecil Hosack and Charles Atkinson, returned to Lima by Sheriff Eley from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, on Sunday night, were taken to Delphos this morning, where they were arraigned before Justice Bliss.

to answer to the charge of burglary and larceny. They pleaded guilty and were bound over to await the action of the grand jury. In the sum of $500. They were arrested in Lima some time ago, under the Harrison anti-narcotic law and confessed, so police say, to entering the Wahmhoft drug store in Delphos, with the object of securing narcotics. Judge J. M. Killits of Toledo, sentenced them to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, to federal prison. Their cases were heard in federal court in that city.

Under habeas proceedings, they were released. Prosecutor Barr of Allen county, at once ordered the men held on charges of burglary and larceny. Sheriff Eley left Thursday for the west, returning the prisoners. They are still in jail, bond not having been furnished.

Mert Weaver, arrested on a charge of non-support pleaded not guilty to the charge in the court of Justice of the Peace Hamilton when arraigned this morning. At the hearing a little later he was found guilty and fined $10 and costs and sentenced to six months in the Toledo workhouse.

GIRARD, O.—Five hundred workmen of the A. M. Byers plant here will benefit by an increase in the pudding rate, which has been raised from $2.42 1/2 to $2.40 a ton, effective July 1, according to an announcement made here today. The new scale is the highest paid since 1865. Other large mills in this district are expected to adopt the same scale today.

Preparedness :: Peace :: Prosperity

For President
WOODROW WILSON
of New Jersey

For Vice President
THOMAS R. MARSHALL
of Indiana

FORD FOR WILSON
My hat is off to the president who has kept us out of war, who is keeping us out of war and who will keep us out of war.
The above remark, emanating from the mouth of Henry Ford, the ultra-pacifist whom the Republicans of Michigan presented for the presidency and who has been looked upon as an opponent of Mr. Wilson because of the latter's preparedness program, is about as significant as anything which has been uttered during the present year. In fact, it indicates united support of the administration on the part of the opponents of war.

If Ford may be taken as a typical representative of the pacifist element in the United States—and it would be difficult to find a better specimen—the trite utterance will have a bearing which cannot be overestimated. Republican managers have tried a number of angles in their effort to find in the preparedness propaganda an issue to be raised against Mr. Wilson. At first they branded "reasonable preparedness" as an utterly insufficient doctrine. About that time Roosevelt began to rave about his policies, which were so Prussian in their militarism as to make the president's sagacity evident to all. The Roosevelt program went so far ahead of the bounds of reason as to kill the G. O. P. plan of stamping the administration as "weak".

The Mexican uprisings and the dispute with Germany over breaches of international law made the preparedness idea immensely popular. The great mass of the Americans have level heads and consequently the wisdom of the "safety first" idea was soon apparent to most of them. The G. O. P. now changed tactics and tried to grab the credit for the issue, but the fact that Wilson himself had toured the Middle West in behalf of the program killed the Republican plan of assuming responsibility for starting the agitation.

Only one course was left for the manipulators who desired to make the armament program an issue. The pacifists must be corralled. Then it was that Henry Ford was treated to an impromptu boom which soon grew alarmingly. Started partially to influence Henry in getting up an interest in the defeat of Wilson, the "jitney" candidacy swept the primaries of a couple of states before it could be headed off. The Republicans were jubilant. They could now split the pacifist vote away from Wilson and get a campaign contribution from Henry at the same time. But Henry Ford comes out with an endorsement for Wilson!

Very good, Henry. The Republicans have now the old dilemma to face again. Thwarted in all efforts to make an issue of the preparedness program, they must take one horn or the other of the old accusation that Wilson is too conciliatory. If they declare for that, they must also declare for war. If they declare for war the president will call attention to the fact that we are not in shape for war and that war would be suicidal until after the consummation of the preparedness program.

So the Flivver isn't such a bad car after all.

ALL IN ONE YEAR
The National Educational Association, in convention at New York, offers an interesting commentary on the change of base which the great majority of the nation has experienced during the last twelve months. In 1915 the N. E. A. voted for the following resolution:
The association deplors any attempt to militarize this country. It again declares against the establishment of compulsory military training in the schools on the ground that this is reactionary and inconsistent with American ideals and standards.
Last week the same association, with the same conservative elements in control and actuated by the same ideals, passed the following:

While the association recognizes that the community, or the state, may introduce such elements of military training into the schools as may seem wise and prudent, yet it believes that such training should be strictly educational in its aim and organization, and that military drills should not be permitted to pervade the educational practices of the school.
In other words, a complete surrender to the same idea of military training supplanted the blind opposition to anything which might be distorted into militarism. A year ago the N. E. A. delegates feared that the establishment of military training would feudalize the schools, kill democracy and crowd out the old essentials now so rapidly giving way to head-stringing, paper-cutting and the weaving of Navajo blankets. In 1916 the N. E. A. is mildly remonstrative against the possible over-application of the military training system, but admits the prudence of introducing the elements of such a science.

When the teachers of a nation espouse a new idea it will be a success, for it spreads into the home by way of the growing child. Ordinarily the teachers are generally too fearful overstepping the bounds of what the board of education holds safe, for in the above case common sense prevails.

Speaking to the American School Peace League in the Hotel Astor at New York last Friday, Dr. David Starr Jordan, Chancellor Emeritus of the Leland Stanford University, called the metropolis a "culture" city. "Had it not been for the propagandists being partially successful in their murderous work, New York state troops would not now be suffering in the sun-baked plains of Texas," he declared. It is a relief to note that one man from the southwest has the courage to state what all know—that American plunderers interested in oil, mines or cattle have only their own greed to thank for the revolt of the starving peons and the subsequent famine of ten-cents-a-day labor.

How would you like to be paid with a promise? When you want cash are you satisfied with an unsecured promissory note? You can understand how the East Siders felt last night when their promised Market street subway was placed in the January appropriation—"If we can possibly do it".

GOOD EVENING: In this kind of weather it's natural to envy the men on that submarine which stayed under water sixteen days

By DAISY DEAN

Douglas Fairbanks, Triangle star, recently took a vacation in the Carquinez woods in California. He had a thoroughly good time, as the picture would seem to indicate.

A MOST unusual and touching little tribute was recently paid Charles Chaplin's musical abilities by one of the employees of the Chaplin-Mutual studios in Los Angeles.
The comedian, waiting for the construction of a set, was wandering about the studio in his famous make-up playing, as he frequently does, a plaintive selection on his violin.
Unconsciously, he had chosen one of the popular Irish ballads, the strains of which serve to quicken the pulse of all loyal sons of Erin. As he neared the gate leading from the studio into the open air stage a stalwart Irish carpenter abandoned his task and stood listening until the last note had died away.
Then he returned to his work. As he passed one of his fellow workers he declared:
'Why in the world does that fellow fall and tumble about for a living when he can play music like that?'

No Pudding For That Meal.
Miss Iva Shepard, movie star, invited friends to dinner at her house. For dessert they were to have a cornstarch pudding made from a recipe brought from Virginia.
The maid came in and said something was wrong with the pudding. She had found she was out of cornstarch in the kitchen at the last moment and explained she had made the pudding from cornstarch she found in a jar on the dressing table in the boudoir of the charming Miss Shepard.
There had been cornstarch in the jar. But a few days before the last had been used, and Miss Shepard had refilled the jar with a special French powder that cost $2 a pound and was obtainable only at one place in New York.

PAPER SUITS FOR AVIATORS.
A new use for paper has been found in the manufacture of clothing for aviators. Paper is better than most fabrics for keeping out the cold encountered at high altitudes. A special kind of paper, thin and light in weight has been made for this purpose. It is so tough that it can be washed and dried. The full suit includes coat, trousers, socks, cap with ear flaps, and gloves which can be worn inside of cloth gloves if desired. It is said that these paper suits are being used extensively by the aviators of the German army.

HEALTH HINTS
REGULAR SLEEP HELPS TO KEEP THE BABY WELL

Proper sleep keeps babies off the ill list during the trying hot months of summer.
Young babies should sleep the greater part of the time. If they do not there is something wrong. As the baby grows older he learns to sleep longer at night and less in the daytime.

If the mother gives some attention to training him the baby soon can learn to sleep at about the same time every day.
Regularity in the sleeping habit is one of the best ways to keep baby well.

Helps Mother, Too.
When baby sleeps at regular periods it also enables the mother to attend to many household duties for which she would not find time if baby was cross and restless and refused to sleep.

Baby should take a long sleep in the morning, stay awake for an hour or two in the middle of the day and then take another nap in the afternoon.

Then, if kept awake during the later part of the afternoon the child will be tired enough to sleep soundly during the night.

In Bed By Six.
By 6 o'clock all good, healthy babies should be in bed. The windows of the room in which baby sleeps should be opened to permit plenty of fresh air to circulate through the room. This is just as important in keeping baby well as plenty of sleep is.

When baby cries at night do not take him up unless it is feeding time or his diaper needs changing. Turn baby over from time to time so that he sleeps alternately on the right and the left side. This helps to keep the head development normal.

Breast milk is the greatest safeguard against illness among babies.

Hot Water and "ANURIC"
Before Meals---and Health

All people in America and especially those who are past middle age are prone to eat too much meat and in consequence deposit lime salts in their arteries, veins and joints. They often suffer from twinges of rheumatism or lumbago, sometimes from gout, swollen hands or feet. Such people are not always able to exercise sufficiently in the outdoor air or drink enough pure water in order to sweat freely and excrete impurities through the skin. Dr. Pierce has conducted experiments and thoroughly tested a uric acid solvent at his Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, which he is convinced is many times more potent than lithia—this is named "Anuric." It can be had at almost all drug stores by simply asking for Dr. Pierce's Anuric for kidneys or backache. It will overcome such conditions as rheumatism, dropsical swellings, cold extremities, scalding and burning urine and sleeplessness due to constant need of getting out of bed at night.
Our grandmothers have told our mothers and our mothers have in turn instructed us that in case of sickness, resort to Dr. Pierce's dependable household prescriptions. These medicines as put up for sale by druggists have never been recommended as "cure-alls," but only as superior remedies for certain common and easily-recognized diseases. Had these medicines been adopted to all classes and forms of chronic diseases there would have been no necessity for organizing a competent staff of expert physicians and surgeons, to act in the treatment of difficult, obscure and complicated cases of chronic diseases. Dr. Pierce maintains in his Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute. Of his home remedies the most widely known are his "Favorite Prescription" for womanly troubles and run-down conditions peculiar to the womanly sex; his "Golden Medical Discovery," the greatest of all herbal system tonics and vitalizers, for stomach, liver and blood disorders, as well as his "Pleasant Pellets," the tiny, tonic laxatives, overcoming constipation and cleansing the system of poisons and accumulations in the bowels.

OHIO DRUGGISTS TO RESUME OLD FIGHT

Delegates at Cedar Point to Try to Divorce State Food and Drug Laws.

SANDUSKY, July 11.—The fight to divorce the pure food and the drug laws of Ohio will be resumed this week at Cedar Point where the Ohio State Pharmaceutical association will hold its annual convention. Sweeping recommendations will be made by the legislative committee along this line. The association is expected to endorse the plans.

Druggists of Ohio, so early arrivals, want the state board of pharmacy to take back the enforcement of all drug laws. The power of enforcement now lies with the agricultural commission. The taking up of drug samples and inspection of drugs in general, the druggists say, should be done by the state pharmacy board. No attempt will be made to take the pure food laws under the pharmacy board.

The recommendation of the legislative committee to the convention would entail the rewriting of the pure food and drug laws of the state. A bill for the separation of the drug and food laws was passed by the last legislature but because of one or two objectionable features it was vetoed by the governor.

Another recommendation to be made by the legislative committee is that the state authorities be required to publish the analyses of drugs, patent medicines, etc., made by the state inspectors. In the last ten months over 1,400 analyses were made. The object of the publication of the analyses is to show the public whose medicines meet the requirements of the state law.

The convention will be featured by an interesting discussion of the new standard of drugs problem which confronts all pharmacists. The United States pharmacopoeia will come out about Aug. 1 and goes into effect Sept. 1, leaving but one month's time for druggists and manufacturers to change to the new standard.

It is believed likely that Forest D. Christian of Sidney, first vice president of the association, will be elevated to the presidency at this week's meeting.

The Ohio state board of pharmacy will meet here today and will announce the names of those granted pharmacist and assistant pharmacist licenses.

Stewart L. Bolin, United States district attorney of Columbus, is expected Wednesday to address the convention on the Harrison narcotic law.

LIMA Y.M.C.A. TO LOSE GOOD MAN

Frank Stalter Resigns as Membership Secretary; Goes to Toledo.

The Lima Y. M. C. A. is losing another good man in the person of Mr. Frank G. Stalter, who has resigned his position as membership and social secretary of the local association to accept a similar position with the association at Toledo.

The fact that an association the size of Toledo is willing to put Mr. Stalter at the head of their membership and social work with the responsibility several times as great as that here in Lima shows conclusively they are confident in his ability. Not only in his work in Cleveland, Canton and the Central Y. M. C. A. in Pittsburgh and as general secretary in Bowling Green, but also since his short stay in Lima, Mr. Stalter has proved himself a man of marked ability in his chosen work.

He is entirely responsible for the promotion and organization of the 1500 club which has shown such splendid results, not only in getting but in holding new members and which promises to be a large factor in the local association in the future. In his personal relations with other members of the executive force, the members of the association and practically all with whom he has come in contact Mr. Stalter has shown himself to be a man of efficiency and of strong Christian character. The local association regrets very much to see him go but realizes that he goes to a position of larger responsibility and much larger remuneration than the local association could afford. His successor has not yet been selected but will be before September 1st.

It was partly on the account of the resignation of Mr. Stalter that the 1500 club gathered at the Y. M. C. A. last evening, and to consider their work up to the present and what they hoped to do in the future. All were enthusiastic concerning work already done and the outlook. Of course all were very sorry indeed to lose the leadership of Mr. Stalter. Those of the 1500 club that were present expressed a desire to become 100 pointers in membership getters by October 1st. Points mean dollars paid in on membership fees.

Those who stand at the head with 15 or more points are: Arthur Wells, 58 1/2; Omar Moeller, 21; Jacob Keller, 18; Walter Bowsher, 18; Charles Garrett, 18; G. W. Worth, 17; D. B. Stewart, 15.

Whoever comes to take Mr. Stalter's place will find a well organized body of men to follow his leadership. The club will probably not have another meeting until the first week in September, when plans for a special membership "drive" will be formulated.

IRISH HOME RULE GOES BEYOND WAR

Temporary Measure to be Effective Until Permanent Plan is Adopted.

LONDON, July 11.—Premier Asquith, in explaining the Irish agreement in the house of commons said it was proposed that the bill should remain in force during the war and 12 months thereafter, and if parliament had not made further provision by that time for a government of Ireland, the period should be extended.

Representatives of the imperial executive, the prime minister said, would have control of the defense of the realm act. Mr. Asquith said the new bill would contain general provisions reserving for the exclusive authority of the imperial parliament and government not only the navy and the army but all matters arising out of the war.

He emphasized that there was no intention on the part of those who might be associated with the government of Ireland to encroach in any way in regard to the successful prosecution of war.

"We have here," the premier said, "an arrangement such as never was possible before," and he appealed to the house to take advantage of the opportunity, which might never recur.

There were features in the settlement plan, Mr. Asquith said, which none would have chosen voluntarily, and as a result there had been some misunderstandings in the cabinet.

In view, however, of the agreement reached in Ireland and the importance of unity, the ministers were willing to share the responsibility of submitting the proposals to parliament and recommending their acceptance.

"The dominating factor," Mr. Asquith said, "which made us all willing to become parties or sponsors to this measure, is the war."

While not going into details, the premier indicated the main lines of the agreement included the exclusion of six Ulster counties. He said the Irish parliament would be composed of the members at present returned to the imperial government, while the appeal court in Dublin would be appointed by the imperial executive.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

The hot weather is having its effect on the marriage license bureau at the court house and up to noon today Master Dan Cupid could muster but two licenses to his credit.

Marriage permits this morning were: Floyd Pond, 28, sign-painter, of 210 West Wayne street, and Pauline M. Cox, 22 dental assistant, of 352 West High street. The Rev. G. W. Lilly to officiate.

A license was issued later yesterday afternoon to Gustave Herman Riedel, 30, manufacturer, of 758 West High street, and Marie Neuner, 20, of 991 West High street. The Rev. T. W. Hoernemann, pastor of the German Reformed church, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride could not speak a word of English. A relative who was with the couple served as interpreter for the marriage license clerk. The Rev. Mr. Hoernemann used the German ceremony in receiving the marriage vows.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE, DIRE ALLEGATIONS

That he compelled her to do manual labor to support herself and keep up a home, and that he refused to live, only in locations of questionable places, was the claim set up by Mrs. Estella Walters, who today filed suit for divorce from Perry A. Walters, to whom she was married in Lima on October 16, 1908. They have one child, Josiah Walters, 7 years old.

She says Walters, is a strong healthy man, capable of earning good wages, but that instead he spent his money in riotous living.

At divers times, the wife says, he abused her, assaulted her with his fists, used vile and indecent language and called her indecent names.

She asks for the care and custody of their child, who is making his home with his grandfather, Josiah Walters.

SAVES COMPANION WHEN BOAT UPSETS

Earl Winslow Has Fierce Struggle With Drowning Man in Water.

Lloyd Robinson, 28, bricklayer, who yesterday narrowly escaped drowning at McCullough's lake, was able to leave the city hospital this morning. However, he is still weak from the experience. It was only after many hours of work that physicians were able to revive him.

According to the story of Earl Winslow, his companion who saved Robinson's life, the two of them engaged a row boat on the lake late in the afternoon. In attempting to change seats in the boat Robinson was thrown in the water.

When Robinson came to the surface the first time and immediately went under again, the companion understood that he did not know how to swim and jumped into the rescue. When Robinson came up the second time he grasped hold of Winslow's neck.

A frantic struggle was waged in the water between the two men for several minutes. Winslow realized that unless he broke the hold of the frantic companion, both of them would be drowned. However, it was only after almost superhuman effort that he was able to bring his companion to shallow water.

Winslow was entirely exhausted from his efforts and the other was unconscious. Visitors at the park used first aid methods to revive the latter until the arrival of the Williams and Davis ambulance. The pulmotor was then put into use and the half-drowned man was removed to the city hospital.

A DELEGATION OF WOMEN were intensely interested when they recently visited the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and saw the extreme cleanliness and purity which prevail in the preparation and storing of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as well as of her other medicines. An hour is required to go through so large an establishment. One thing which struck the visitors was the great number of files containing the letters of women who told how much the famous Compound had done for them. Only part of them are published, and no letter is ever published without the writer's permission.

COUNCILMAN PASS THE BLAME ALONG

Dodge Responsibility For Breach of Faith With East Siders.

With a protesting vote from the friends of the East Side improvement boosters interested in a subway under the D. T. & I. tracks at Market street, the semi-annual budget raising the salary list passed the city council last night at a special session. A delegation of residents of the "double-crossed" section of the city was on hand to inquire why promises were to be ignored, stating that a pledge of relief was made by the council to preclude the knitting of the bond issues in that district last April.

The session soon developed into an apologetic forum for the offering of excuses when the attitude of the east side voters became known. The finance committee shifted the blame to the improvement committee, whence it was promptly tossed over to the legal department. Acting Solicitor H. E. Garling stated that the legal end of the case was handled by Solicitor Melvin C. Light, and as that official is at Camp Willis, the merry game of "passing the buck" ended there.

The D. T. & I. finally came in for a round of "slams," as there were no representatives present, and the councilmen were more interested in squaring themselves with the east side voters than in anything else.

The city's share of the expense of putting through the subway has been estimated at $3,716,76, which is 50 per cent of the total cost as estimated by the engineer. The completion of this work would open up a new portion of the city now totally neglected, giving access to a portion which is impossible to reach save by the most roundabout way. Often the

Lloyd Robinson, 28, bricklayer, who yesterday narrowly escaped drowning at McCullough's lake, was able to leave the city hospital this morning. However, he is still weak from the experience. It was only after many hours of work that physicians were able to revive him.

According to the story of Earl Winslow, his companion who saved Robinson's life, the two of them engaged a row boat on the lake late in the afternoon. In attempting to change seats in the boat Robinson was thrown in the water.

When Robinson came to the surface the first time and immediately went under again, the companion understood that he did not know how to swim and jumped into the rescue. When Robinson came up the second time he grasped hold of Winslow's neck.

A frantic struggle was waged in the water between the two men for several minutes. Winslow realized that unless he broke the hold of the frantic companion, both of them would be drowned. However, it was only after almost superhuman effort that he was able to bring his companion to shallow water.

Winslow was entirely exhausted from his efforts and the other was unconscious. Visitors at the park used first aid methods to revive the latter until the arrival of the Williams and Davis ambulance. The pulmotor was then put into use and the half-drowned man was removed to the city hospital.

A DELEGATION OF WOMEN were intensely interested when they recently visited the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and saw the extreme cleanliness and purity which prevail in the preparation and storing of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as well as of her other medicines. An hour is required to go through so large an establishment. One thing which struck the visitors was the great number of files containing the letters of women who told how much the famous Compound had done for them. Only part of them are published, and no letter is ever published without the writer's permission.

CHEATING

"B UT SHE CAN make cake," the fond lover said in defense of his bride-to-be. "Yes, of course," my friend replied, "but after a hard day at the office that has given you a man-sized hunger, how tempting would a piece of that cake be?" "Anyhow, she can learn after we are married," was the high-handed way the fond lover dismissed the subject.

After he had gone down the street, my friend turned to me and said "I know of more than one case like that, where the husband has waited until his wife would learn to cook and sew, and then when the monthly bills come in, wonders why he ever thought he could support a wife on such a salary."

I know of one case where the young wife, a pretty society girl before her marriage, who could make cake and embroider beautifully, and who was going to learn to keep a house after she was married. After three years of married life, with a young daughter that takes up most of her time, and the recipe of the cake forgotten and without the energy to embroider, she entered our vocational school. She wasted too much when she does the cooking herself, and she can't keep the accounts because she has no practical knowledge of the kitchen, and boarding houses are almost impossible with a youngster. Now after three good years wasted she is attending our night classes of cooking and sewing.

"All of our young girls want to be married, expect to be married, but so few of them seem to realize the business value of the situation. They are proud of their husbands, but they never seem ashamed that they can't be just as efficient in their position as wife. 'Vocations'—what is a better one than that of an efficient house wife? And what a cheat any girl is who accepts the position of a wife without preparation."

"It's an old problem," I mused, "the subject of many divorce proceedings."

"Not old," she corrected me, "but new. The product of the modern business woman, who makes a business of everything else but the making of a home. Your mother, or my mother, were never accused of not knowing how to make any other thing than cake. But their daughters are different, and whose fault is it? I can't believe it's the mothers, but rather the fact that today women are turning too much thought to their emancipation and not enough to future happiness and real vocation."

I looked wise, but said nothing. I think my friend had forgotten I was a suffragist sympathizer.

SOME HELPFUL HINTS.

Salt in whitewash makes it adhere better.

To remove stains from a steel fender, rub with a piece of raw potato.

Sprinkled on the carpet before sweeping, salt will lay the dust and revive the color.

Do not throw away orange peel, but dry in the oven, grate the yellow part, and use for flavoring cakes. It gives a delicious orange taste.

If you happen to have run out of boot polish, a few drops of lemon juice rubbed briskly on to black or brown leather will give it a brilliant polish.

Grease spots on the pages of books should be sprinkled with finely powdered pipeclay, then a piece of tissue paper laid over the pipeclay and the page pressed with a warm iron. Rub off with India rubber.

To prevent doormats from fraying take a large packing needle, some medium sized string and with this buttonhole stitch all round the edge. The stitches should be about one inch apart and about one inch deep. This prolongs the life of a doormat for months.

To remove stains from the marble-topped washstands, marble mantelpieces, etc., mix together equal quantities of soft soap, quicklime and caustic potash, apply it with a brush and leave for several days. Wash the paste off afterwards and dry and polish the marble with soft, clean cloths.

To remove stains from all paper mix a little grated pipeclay with enough water to make a smooth paste, spread this over the stain and leave for 12 hours. Afterwards scrape off with a paper knife or other blunt instrument and brush with a soft brush. No trace of the stain will remain.

Paper in which butter margarine or lard has been wrapped should be kept and used as a lining for cake tins, as a covering for a pudding which is to be steamed and for wrapping up sweet roll-pies before putting them into the cloth to be boiled. These papers are all ready without any more greasing, so there is a saving of both time and labor.

For cakes and puddings scald all the fruit by pouring boiling water right over it. This cleanses it thoroughly and causes it to swell and become fresh and juicy. Do this the night before cooking so that the fruit is perfectly dry before being mixed with the other ingredients. If there is no time for this put the fruit on a coarse sieve or colander, dredge some flour over it and rub briskly. The flour and stalks fall through leaving the fruit dry and clean.—Tit-Bits.

One of the most interesting and largely attended meetings of the Brotherhood of the First Lutheran church was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burkhardt, at Elmview. An additional pledge of $25 was made toward a small indebtedness of the church. A like amount was pledged by the men at their meeting last month. An interesting feature of the meeting was a Bible picture contest in which all present engaged. Beginning with the September meeting, the men will take up the study of the life of Martin Luther. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Lulu Friefer.

PERSONALITIES I HAVE MET

KITTY GORDON.

Copyright 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

YOU who have never seen Kitty Gordon on the stage have perhaps seen her in her late pictures, for the camera and the studio have lured and won her, just as they have done with most of the stars of the stage. And after seeing her you will appreciate it when I tell you that she is considered one of the very best-gowned actresses in America.

Miss Gordon is the wife of an English nobleman, Capt. Beresford, the younger brother of Lord Deedes, but in spite of her social position, which is an enviable one, and the admiration of the public, which has always considered her one of the most beautiful women on the stage, Miss Gordon is simple, natural and charming.

One matinee I visited her in her dressing room when she was starting in Los Angeles in a musical comedy—"Pretty Mrs. Smith."

At the end of the second act—it was so ordained by the author of the play—Miss Gordon was to swoon, the curtain being rung down as she fell limply upon the couch. But this particular afternoon a disastrous, but amusing, accident occurred.

The act was over. Miss Gordon had fainted—the bell was rung which was the cue for the curtain to be lowered—but a minute passed, two minutes passed, three minutes passed and the curtain remained immovable.

Of course the audience voiced its customary bantering laughter, there was a noisy rustle of programs and slowly Miss Gordon opened her eyes, looking about her startled. Then she saw what had happened and, although embarrassed for a few seconds, she rose gracefully to her feet.

In back of the stage there was a mad rush of property men, scrambling to the wings upon the sharp orders from Mr. Morosco, who was quite disturbed over this maddening mishap.

But with a smile Miss Gordon stood there, looking into the audience, for fully five minutes before the curtain descended amid a thundering applause.

And after it was all over, every one in the company was furious, except Miss Gordon, whose scene had been spoiled.

"I say, what is the matter?" she turned and asked the stage director. "What became of the boy who operates the curtain?"

"He was out in the alleyway back of the theatre, oiling his motorcycle," he explained between set teeth.

"Oh, bless my boots!" Miss Gordon replied, elevating one eyebrow. "What an amusing time he chose to do it!"

This is the epitome of her attitude toward every one with whom she works—always generous, always considerate and always amicable.

Miss Gordon is famous for her marvelous arms and shoulders—in fact, she is called "the actress with the fifty-thousand-dollar back", for that is the insurance her managers have placed upon her.

One afternoon, long before she had gone into pictures, Miss Gordon visited our studio and was highly amused at some of the scenes.

"I don't think I would ever have the confidence to become a moving picture actress," she whispered to me, "because it would be just my fate to have them cast me in a fainting ingenue role."

I laughed at her, for truly she

NOW KID M'COY IS A SOLDIER BOY

Here is Kid McCoy, but to speak in a military way, Private Norman Selby, of New York and Indiana, the man who invented the famous corkscrew. If he lands that punch on the chin of any greaser as hard as he landed it on on Peter Maher and Tom Sharkey there will be one less Mexican. The "Kid" is an enthusiastic private in Company K of the Seventy-first regiment of New York. This photograph shows him the centre of an admiring group in camp at McAllen, Texas.

Columbus Will Be Attraction Next Sunday

At the request of a number of Lima baseball fans the management of the Lima Independents has booked the Columbus Shannons as the attraction at Murphy street park next Sunday. It will be remembered that this team played the best game that has been witnessed at the local park this year. Although they were defeated by the Independents by a score of 2 to 1, the locals were forced to go the limit to win the contest.

The line-up of the visitors will be intact with the exception of the pitching staff, which has been strengthened with the addition of Laddie Link. Although not a regular member of the staff of the Shannons, he will pitch the game against Lima and try to obtain revenge for the former defeat administered by the Lima team.

Manager Holleran of the Lima Independents is attempting to strengthen every weakness on the team. Negotiations are pending at the present time which will probably bring Bobby Curtis, Ray Clark and Harry Costello to Lima. Although forced to pay them high salaries, he feels that he is well repaid in the manner fans are supporting the contests at Murphy street park.

EYESIGHT OF THE MOUSE.

How much does a mouse see? To look at a mouse one would think that sight counted for a great deal in its life; but experiments go to show that this is only true within certain limits. Mice are good at distinguishing different degrees of illumination and different colors (preferring red and yellow to blue and green), and they are quick to detect movements; but they have little sense of form and little binocular vision. Microscopic study shows that the retina has no "rods" and no "fovea."—Exchange.

AMERICAN AUTO NOT OF AGE.

It is difficult to comprehend that the American automobile is not yet of age, says Frederick Upham

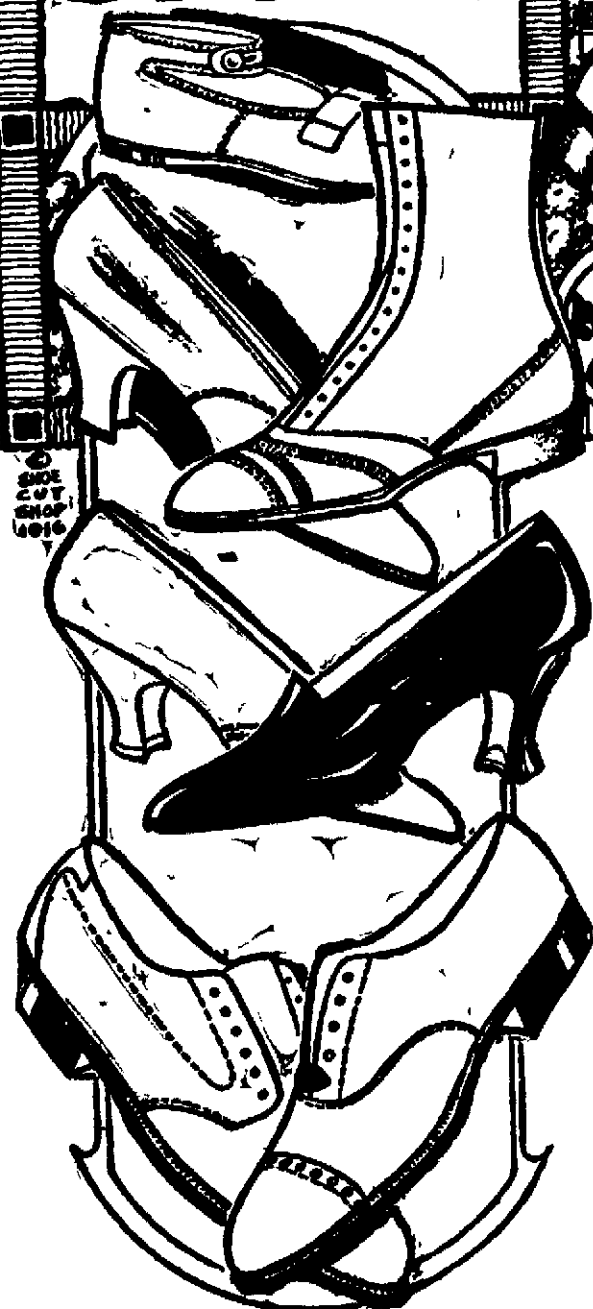

Adams in the April American Magazine. "It was not until Thanksgiving day, 1895, that the first proof was given to the public that the automobile was a practical possibility. It was my privilege to suggest and later to conduct the first automobile race ever held in the United States. It was in Chicago and the winning car made the route of 57 miles at the then record rate of a little more than 8 miles an hour. On October 9 of 1915, not quite 20 years after, the winning car in the Astor cup race ran 350 miles at an average rate of more than 102 miles an hour."
